

ALL DANGER IS THOUGHT ENDED

Democrats' Plan To Fight Stephenson's Election As Senator Tabled By Clever Move.

REPUBLICANS ACTING AS A UNIT

Session Starts With Best Of Feeling Existing Among The Members—Capitol Question May Prove Troublesome One, Before Adjournment Comes.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—(Special to the Gazette.)—The session of the Wisconsin legislature opened today with a feeling of optimism among the members. The Democrats' plan to fight Stephenson's election as senator was tabled by a clever move. The Republicans are acting as a unit. The session starts with the best of feeling existing among the members. A question may prove troublesome one before adjournment comes.

MANY DELEGATES AT A CONFERENCE

COME FROM ALL PARTS OF THE COUNTY FOR MEETING.

ANTI-SALOON CONVENTION

Prof. Burr of Beloit College is one of the speakers at the anti-saloon convention. Many delegates are expected to attend. The convention is being held in the city hall. The speakers will discuss the evils of saloons and the need for prohibition. The convention is expected to be a success.

WEARY WILLIE—He ain't no sailor, and I shall like to see him to the Hobo Convention in St. Louis.

And better time when you do pursue him. "I had a lot to do here for a good night. There's something of the soldier in every one of us. Old soldiers of the battlefields of '61 will straighten up when questioned, 'Were you there?' Proudly they reply, 'I was there.' And when, in the clear light of heaven, we have achieved a victory, we shall be proud to say 'Yes, we were there'—at a greater battle than any in the war of the rebellion."

GARDEN AUTO SHOW NOW READY TO OPEN

Display of Products of Licensed Manufacturers in Madison Square Will Be Event of Year. New York, Jan. 15.—With eyes scarcely recovered from the dazzling display at the Grand Central Palace show of a week ago, the automobile world is anticipating with eager interest the opening of the second of the season's big motor car exhibitions. At this show will be displayed the product of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, a total of nearly three hundred different displays is listed this year. This is about two weeks more than at any previous garden show and to accommodate them every available foot of floor space in the big building has been utilized.

LAW DELAYS A CASE FOR ALMOST A YEAR

Trial of Man Arrested Last April Called for the Twenty-Sixth Time Today. Chicago, Ill., Jan. 15.—For the twenty-sixth time the case of Joseph Swickard was called for trial in the municipal court today. Swickard was arrested last April on a charge of robbing an officer and was fined $100 by Municipal Judge Foster. A new trial was granted and the defendant demanded a jury, the result being that the case was transferred to the main branch of the municipal court. Since then, for various reasons, the case has been continued from time to time, causing the policeman and other witnesses to come and go less than twenty-five times without testifying. Countess Swickard now demands that he either be tried or the case against him be dismissed.

PACKY McFARLAND MEETS DICK HYLAND

Packy is Favorite in Betting on the Fight Held in Los Angeles Tonight. Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 15.—Packy McFarland is a decided favorite in the betting that is being done on the result of his ten-round bout with "Fighting Jack" Hyland, which is slated to take place tonight at Tam McCarney's club. McFarland is coming from the east and is expected to have a difficult time disposing of the once formidable coast fighter. Hyland, on the other hand, has put himself in good condition for the contest and says he expects to be able to hold his own against the Chicago fighter. If McFarland wins he probably will be matched for an early go with Freddie Welsh, the English lightweight, with whom he fought twenty-five rounds to a draw some time ago.

NEW HOTEL OPENED FOR WORKING WOMEN

City Federation Hotel Was Opened in New York Today—Cater Only to Poor Girls. New York, Jan. 15.—The City Federation Hotel for Working Women, occupying commodious quarters in Washington Square, was opened for the reception of guests today. The venture is backed by the New York City Federation of Women's clubs and in many respects is radically different from the Martha Washington hotel and other hotels for women. The plan of the federation is to afford cheap living quarters and good food for women workers receiving small wages. The guests will pay from $3.50 weekly for board and lodging, and no girl will be received who cannot support herself. The location has been chosen with a view to the nearness to large shops and industries, that car fare may be omitted in the girls' expense account. Already the applications for accommodations exceed the capacity of the house. Those unable to secure accommodations at once will be placed on a "waiting list."

WORKINGMEN STRIKE OVER UNION LABELS

Orange, New Jersey, the Scene of G. I. Strike by Workers in the Hat Factories. Newark, N. J., Jan. 15.—Four thousand workers in the hat factories in Orange struck this morning when they were notified by their employers that no more union labels would be permitted in hats produced in the factories. The entire hat manufacturing industry of the country may be affected. More strikers. New Milford, Conn., Jan. 15.—Four hundred hat makers employed at the New Milford hat factory struck this morning. At South Norwalk. South Norwalk, Conn., Jan. 15.—Seven hundred employees of Croft & Knapp company, makers of hats, walked out today. General Order. New York, Jan. 15.—Following the receipt of the order of disconting the use of the union label, the National Board of United Hatters of United States of America, having about 25,000 members, today ordered all employees in places owned or controlled by the members of the association of hat manufacturers to go on a strike.

MALTA IS AWAITING ARRIVAL OF FLEET

Arrival of the American Ships at Valetta is Expected. Valetta, Malta, Jan. 15.—In eager expectancy Malta is awaiting the arrival of the ships of the American fleet. American flags, navy pennants, and streamers are everywhere. The authorities have cooperated with the citizens in preparing for the entertainment of the visitors. The Duke of Connaught, commander-in-chief of the British naval station here, will receive the officers of the fleet. The entertainment program provides for several dinners and dances and there probably will be a review of the garrison.

LIBERIAN VESSEL SHOT AT STEAMER

Customs Gunboat Said to Have Fired on German Line Vessel This Morning. Konakry, French Guinea, West Africa, Jan. 15.—The news has just been received here that the Liberian customs gunboat Lark has been fired on by the German steamer of the Voormann line off the coast of Liberia. The reason for the action is not given.

FIVE WERE BURNED IN NORTHERN WOODS

Mother and Four Children Meet Death When Their Shanty Burned to the Ground. Ashland, Wis., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Nathan Sherrard and four young children were burned to death when their shanty was destroyed by fire at a lumber camp south of Ashland this morning. Sherrard was frightfully burned.

PRESIDENT OF BROWN 50 YEARS OLD TODAY

Head of Eastern University Has Reached Half Century Mark—Is Noted Educator. Providence, R. I., Jan. 15.—Rev. W. H. P. Brown, D. D., president of Brown university and one of the most noted educators in the country, received many congratulations today on the occasion of his fiftieth birthday. Dr. Brown has been at the head of Brown university since 1899. At the time of his election he was pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church in New York City, one of the leading churches of the Baptist denomination in the United States.

PLACE MARINES BACK ON THE BATTLESHIPS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15.—By a unanimous vote of the house committee on naval affairs it was today agreed to recommend the placing of marines back on the ships in the navy, contrary to the action of the president. To protect shell fisheries. New York, Jan. 15.—The initial steps in the organization of the proposed National Association of Shell Fisheries were taken today, when representatives of a dozen or more of the coastline states met in conference at the offices of the New York State Commission in this city. Charles H. Bacon, chief of the Bureau of Shell Fisheries of New Jersey, presided at the meeting. The object of the new organization will be to bring together the states' representatives on boards or commissions, which have the care of this great natural resource of the country. Although the shellfish industry on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts amounts to millions of dollars yearly it is only recently that the states have taken towards its conservation. The United States government has announced its readiness to aid the association in its work.

INFANT DIES FROM BURNS INFLICTED

Mother Left House And Returning Finds Child's Bed A Mass of Flames. Manitowish, Wis., Jan. 15.—The four year old child of Chas. Couzillan of Coleman was badly burned Thursday evening at their home and died this morning. The mother went to visit a neighbor and when she returned found the bed in a mass of flames. The child was terribly burned and died in great agony.

ATLANTA HAS A BIG RECEPTION

FOR PRESIDENT-ELECT TAFT AND HIS PARTY. STREETS WERE THROGGED. With Crowds of Cheering People—Reception Committee Met Special Train Enroute. [SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15.—All Atlanta today lent itself to the reception to President-elect William H. Taft and his party, who arrived in the city from Augusta early this afternoon for a visit that will continue over the greater part of tomorrow. The thousands of residents of Atlanta were multiplied by throngs of sight-seers from the surrounding country and neighboring states. Everywhere in the business section of the city decorations were plentiful. The national colors floated in all parts of town, from the fashionable homes lining Peachtree street as well as from hotels and business houses in the downtown section. Many pictures of Mr. Taft were to be seen among the decorations.

MORE DISCUSSION BY COUNTY BOARD

BROUGHT ABOUT BY REPORT ON SUPERINTENDENT'S AP-PROPRIATIONS.

THEN DISMISSED REPORT

Committee Made Extended Report on Superintendent Hemingway And
His Work As School
Superintendent.

That the January session of the Rock County Board of Supervisors will go down in history as one which was fraught by more exciting and interesting discussions than any previous session is now a certainty.

Hardly do the members of the board dispose of one interesting phase of county legislation before another equally interesting and complex arises and discussions that are both prolonged and heated follow.

The question of Judge Rosa's salary had hardly been cooled off when the proposition of appropriations for the county school superintendents came up and this led to an echo of the last primary campaign.

The attack which aimed at both school superintendents, Antdel and Hemingway, really resulted in a personal attack upon Mr. Hemingway which led him to speak in his own defense.

The whole trouble came about from the report of the special committee composed of Chas. Moore, S. S. Jones, and P. P. Livermore. These gentlemen expressed John Cunningham as special attorney to make the investigation for them.

After reporting the result of the investigation of the law relative to making appropriation for clerk hire the committee went into details as to Mr. Hemingway's manner of conducting his office.

He was accused of attending the university law school from 1903 to 1904; having acted as chairman of the committee on legislation of the state teachers' convention in 1907; of having formed a law partnership in 1907; having held a position as teacher in a business college and of spending a large portion of his time last summer in seeking nomination as district attorney.

He is also accused of having spent much time this past fall in canvassing for the election of president of the state teachers' association. All this the committee thought was a demonstration of the fact he had neglected his office for personal matters.

The committee even hinted that according to the statute the charges might be sufficient ground for his removal from office and also made a recommendation that the offices of the two county superintendents be combined and one competent man be elected.

It was a red hot report and brought about the desired results. It started a discussion that bids fair to be most interesting before it is finally disposed of.

After the report of Sup. Moore was read the discussion was opened by Mr. Roach, who arose and said: "I do not think that this report should be placed on file. I think that the committee have exceeded their authority in this matter. They were authorized only to find whether the board was authorized to make this appropriation for clerk hire."

Mr. Moore's reply was that the committee had taken all of that into consideration and that the question of legality involved all of the other questions.

Sup. Hemingway was allowed to defend himself and his actions. He said that the committee was entirely without jurisdiction in this case.

"The board has no right," said Mr. Hemingway, "to investigate an officer of the county, who serves only a part of the county. When it was decided that the board had no right to appropriate money for deputy hire, that is where the investigation should have stopped."

"They were appointed only to look into the questions of law. I question the right of the whole board to appoint a committee to investigate the affairs of this district."

"The supervisors of the city, according to the report of the attorney general upon the matter, have no right to vote upon the superintendents of the county, because they have in their cities, superintendents."

S. S. Jones: "Each district voted upon it separately."

Sup. Hemingway: "Did they have meetings before it was brought before the board?"

S. S. Jones: "Yes, they did."

In regard to this, Chairman Gettle read the report of last year which told of resolutions introduced by Sups. Paul and Tullar. There were two resolutions but they were alike for each district.

The record showed that Sup. Paul introduced a resolution that the $200 appropriation for deputy hire for Sup. Antdel should not be paid until the legality of the appropriation was determined.

In regard to Mr. Hemingway's question as to the right of the board to investigate the affairs of the district Sup. Bear arose and asked if the board did not have the right to appoint a committee to investigate the actions of the board.

A resolution was introduced at the time of the Paul resolution that a committee be appointed to investigate the questions of law involved in the resolutions of Paul and Tullar.

Mr. Roach made a motion that the part of the report of the committee which dealt with the charges against Mr. Hemingway should be stricken out. This motion was not passed upon as Mr. Hemingway had not finished his speech.

In continuing, Mr. Hemingway said that he asked for a deputy because the state superintendent had expressed his opinion that it could be had if there were more than a hundred schools in the district and that there were more than a hundred.

Now the question seems to rest on "What is a school?" That cannot be settled on before going into the courts for their decision.

"In regard to the charges which are brought against me, I made no such statement that I could not do the work of the office without the assistance of a deputy. None of the gentlemen of the committee nor anyone else has asked me concerning this."

I merely stated that after I had been traveling in the county for the greater part of the week I would like it if I had someone who could do some of the transcription work for me that I might answer the correspondence which came in and send out reports to the various schools I had visited.

"As to absenting myself from office to attend law school. No one thought of bringing that up, and it was a matter of common knowledge, until the time for the election of a superintendent came. Certainly it cannot be said that I spent as much of the time at Madison as is alleged in the complaint."

"No one can accuse me of not having accomplished the work which is set forth in the statutes for the superintendent to do. I was not at the university all of the time. I had to secure special dispensations from the faculty to take examinations and they will tell you that as well as my classmates."

"While at Madison, I hired a clerk to do my work and worked nights and Sundays. As to teaching in the business college, I did do it for a short time. It required one hour of work two days in the week. I gave it up some time since and Charles Lange has since taken it. That constitutes all there is to the felony charge."

"I think you gentlemen are not treating me exactly fair. 'There is nothing personal in this matter. Would it not take all of your time if you attended to all of your duties.'"

Sup. Hemingway: "You mean 'do all the writing by long-hand'?" Yes, I think perhaps it would."

S. S. Jones: "A resolution was introduced at another session by Mr. Gettle that all of the county officers owe their personal services to the county and that protracted absence could be excused only on the ground of physical disability. Would you be keeping your trust with the people if you employed someone else to do a part of your work?"

Sup. Hemingway: "Well, if it was only to do some writing or copying of reports, I do not see that I would not."

At this juncture of the session it was moved and carried to adjourn until Monday.

This afternoon in the session the committee which brought the charges against Mr. Hemingway withdrew them from the report which they made of the matter of the legality of the appropriation of money for clerk hire and deputies for the county superintendents.

Immediately following the withdrawal a resolution was offered to consolidate the school districts, to appropriate $1500 to pay the superintendent as a salary, $200 for stationery and miscellaneous, $250 for traveling expenses and $500 as a salary for a deputy.

District Attorney Fisher stated that the resolution was not quite full enough and that if they desired to withdraw it they could do so and he would draw up one for them. The committee withdrew the resolution to present another later.

The withdrawal of the charges against Hemingway only came after the school superintendent had invited an investigation of his conduct and a heated discussion had been indulged in by Supervisors Moore and Jones and Superintendent Hemingway.

The other work of the afternoon was the reports of Committee No. 15, Purchasing Committee No. 13, Sheriff and Constables' Claims No. 4 for the appropriations for Running Expenses, salaries, etc., Committee No. 14 which has charge of the reports of the postmasters and the asylum. All reports were adopted.

Resolutions were brought up and adopted to suspend the appropriation of $100 per year for William Ingles; a resolution to authorize the Building Committee to fill in all low places on the northeast side of the Court-house, caused by recent grading and to appropriate $100 for that purpose.

The Rosa Matter
The following is the report of the committee to look into the Rosa matter. The committee was appointed on petition of L. E. Gettle, as a taxpayer, that the pay of Judge Rosa be held up. The report gives the finding of the committee.

"We are informed that on the 17th day of November, 1908, the said Judge Rosa left the City of Beloit and the State of Wisconsin and departed on a private business trip to the Pacific Coast, and that he absented himself from the said court from that date until the 26th day of December, 1908. We are further informed that during the absence of the said Judge, said Rosa appointed A. D. Roadhouse, Esq., a Justice of the Peace and the Clerk of the Municipal Court for the City of Beloit, as acting Municipal Judge."

"We are further informed that the appointment of the said Roadhouse was illegal and that said Roadhouse could not act as a Justice of the Peace and Clerk of the Municipal Court at the same time."

"Wherefore your committee believe that the said Roadhouse is not entitled to any pay for the time or the services that he rendered as acting Municipal Judge of the City of Beloit during the absence of the said Judge, Rosa. Your committee is further informed that the said Roadhouse has filed an order with the County Treasurer directing the County Treasurer to pay any sum of money that may be due him as acting Municipal Judge to the Hon. C. D. Rosa. Your committee believe that the order is void and of no effect for the reason that the said Roadhouse is not entitled to pay as acting Municipal Judge."

"Your committee further report that section 34, Chapter 423, of the laws of 1905, relative to the establishment of a municipal court in the City of Beloit provided as follows: 'The judge by order in writing filed in court may appoint a Justice of the peace of the said district to discharge the duties of his office during his absence for sickness or other temporary disability. Such order may be revoked by the Judge at any time. Such appointee while administering said duties shall have the powers of the judge except as to trials of infirmities and appeals beyond the jurisdiction of his office. For his services $5 a day to be deducted from the salary of the judge and paid him, payment to be made at the same time and in the same manner, as the judge's salary.' From this section it would appear that the sum of $5 a day be deducted from the salary of said Judge during his absence, or at least during the time that the said acting Municipal Judge was engaged in performing the duties of the municipal judge, or at least $5 per day during the time that the said acting judge was holding court."

"Your committee further believe that the Hon. C. D. Rosa neglected the duties of his office by delegating the same to the said Roadhouse and by so doing he was guilty of neglecting his duty for such a long period of time and your committee believe that said Judge Rosa should not absent himself for such a long period and that during his absence he ought to appoint a qualified Justice of the peace other than a Justice who might be the clerk of his said court."

"Your committee further find that they have examined the said act above referred to and that they find no authority in said act which gives the clerk of the Beloit Municipal court any right or authority to sign orders on the county treasurer, in view of all the circumstances, it is the opinion of your committee that the salary of Judge Rosa for that part of the month of November and December, 1908, that he was absent on private business, be held up and paid, as provided by law, only to the person legally entitled to the same."

"Your committee further submit the statement of Judge Rosa (giving days and dates) when he was absent and the names of his substitutes, which is hereby made a part of this report and designated as 'Exhibit A.'"

"Your committee also submit herewith a detailed report of all moneys received and disbursed by said court since its organization, which is also made a part of this report and designated as 'Exhibit B.' We recommend that Exhibit 'B' be filed for reference but not published."

This report was submitted to the board yesterday afternoon and after considerable discussion by the members was unanimously adopted.

In meeting Judge Rosa was allowed to speak, among other things saying that the trip mentioned was not entirely for business purposes, as he received only his traveling expenses and because his physician said that he was in need of a rest and that his health would be benefited by such a change and trip. Also, that in returning to Beloit, he was delayed ten days on account of the sickness of his wife, who accompanied him. He also stated that it was beyond the power of the board to legally hold up his salary.

AGAIN PLANNING FOR THE BOTTLING WORKS
Louis M. Park of the Milwaukee Water Company in Janesville This Past Week.

Louis M. Park of Minneapolis, one of the promoters of the Milwaukee Water Company, which is planning to improve its property, the old Burr Springs, and install a model up-to-date bottling plant, spent several hours in Janesville this past week. Mr. Park is pushing the Janesville mineral water in all parts of the country and their shipping business has grown to such a proportion that steps must be taken at once to increase the facilities of handling the product. The present plant being inadequate to meet the demand, Mr. Park has under consideration a plan to have his company purchase the property opposite the Burr Springs, now owned by A. Woodward, and running a pipe line across the river to a bottling plant to be erected there. "This would make an easy haul to the North-Western road, where a sidetrack and small station could be erected. Somewhat later Mr. Park thought that the company would build the bottling plant on the Burr property and run a bridge across the river for a sidetrack, but the expense of this was considered too heavy. The other plan that Mr. Park has under consideration is building an originally designed on the spring property itself and transporting to the shipping docks by way of the Janesville-Madison Interurban. While here Mr. Park and Dr. Dwight talked over the proposed drives of the Janesville Park & Pleasure Drive Association and the possibility of their being extended up the river to the bottling works of the company if located on the west side of the river. Mr. Park, it is understood, can secure permission of the owner of the property adjacent to the river, A. Woodward, for a road through his property which runs from Chicago Grove to a point opposite Milwaukee Springs. Mr. Park will return to Janesville for a conference with local men in February.

Man Who Stole Fur Robe from Horse's Back Goes to Schellie's Hotel.

Doomed by the local police to be an oldtime crook, George Watson was sentenced to twenty days by Judge Fifield in the municipal court this morning, having pleaded guilty to stealing a fur robe from the back of a shivering horse that belonged to Will Boyer. Boyer had come into the city from his farm on the Orleans Road, five miles west of here, and left the animal hitched outside of William Lenz's saloon on Silver street.

The theft occurred at half-past seven last evening and a few minutes later a man carrying a fur robe walked into Kemmerer's Livery stable on North Bluff street and accepted C. W. Kemmerer with the words: "Do you want to buy this fur robe? My horse doesn't need it."

"Why?" said Mr. Kemmerer. "Have you had it very long? Where did you buy it?"

Before the man took occasion to reply to Mr. Kemmerer's query the latter was called into an adjoining office on a matter of urgent importance. When he returned the man had disappeared.

His suspicions aroused, Mr. Kemmerer rang up police headquarters and described his visitor in this wise: Light gray suit, wears a cap and a blue sweater, has a week's growth of whiskers, black hair, and faded, but keen, eyes. About half-past twelve Officer John Brown apprehended a man answering to this description who was passing Andy Gibson's restaurant on his way to the North-Western depot.

The robber said he was going to Madison and gave the name as George Watson. He stated this morning before the court that his home was in Madison, but the local police keenly declare him to be "an old hand."

Other prisoners brought before Judge Fifield this morning were James Daniels, arrested for drunkenness at the North-Western depot by Officer Sam Brown, and Jack Holleran, found intoxicated on Milwaukee street by the same officer. In the case of the last-named sentence was suspended upon promise to leave town, and Daniels was sentenced for seven days.

PLEADED GUILTY TO THE CHARGES MADE
Last of the Donnerstags Given Two Years and a Half in Leavenworth Prison.

In the case of the United States against Rudolph, a counterfeiter, which was called in the United States Court at Madison yesterday, he pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two and one-half years in the penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

His mother, Hannah Donnerstag, and his sister, Clara and his brothers, Albert and Hugo, were also indicted for passing counterfeit coins. On Wednesday the indictments against the mother and sister were nolleed, and Hugo and Albert pleaded guilty of passing and having in their possession counterfeit coins.

In their statements to the court, they said they received the coins from their brother Rudolph, laying the blame entirely upon him. They were each given four years in the penitentiary.

Thus, S. Nelson, of the firm of Nelson, Adams & Reeder, of this city, was called to Madison yesterday morning, to assist Henry T. Sheldon in the defense of Rudolph. After going over the matter fully, he and Mr. Sheldon advised Rudolph to plead guilty, and ask for clemency from the court. This was done.

The counterfeiting was done in a crude way, the moulds or dies being made of plaster of paris. Gold pieces, principally in the denomination of twenty dollars, were imitated. The government officers found the counterfeiting outfit on the farm of Rudolph Donnerstag. There were a number of witnesses on hand who had received from one or the other of the Donnerstag brothers pieces of the spurious coins.

DR. BURRUS MADE A CLOSE EXAMINATION

Takes Up Carmichael And Drowning From Phenological Standpoint.

That both Carmichael, the Carthage, Ill., suicide, hunted for the murder in Michigan of Thomas Gideon Browning, and Browning himself, his victim, whom he claimed had exercised an hypnotic influence over him—that both these men had heads that were not normal is the opinion of Dr. A. P. Burrus of this city, who is considered considerable of an authority on phenology.

Dr. Burrus has never devoted his attention to that science save as a pastime, but he had some valuable comments to make upon portraits of the two men which have appeared under the notice.

"The face of the clerkman, who is alleged to have been susceptible to hypnotism is quite large as compared with the rest of his head," says Dr. Burrus, significantly. "Veneration" is so large in his head that it forms a plane on the top. And all around this plane, the head is flattened, indicating small moral organs with the exception of "veneration."

"In the upper frontal and cerebral region, baldness appears, which indicates disease in that locality—for it is a fact that in hysteria the hair falls out from the spaces of the head that are immediately above the parts of the brain affected. Next we notice that the opening of the ear is lower by at least three-fourths of an inch than would be normal, and it tips outward from the head.

"The head is full and prominent up and back of the ears for three inches, indicating that destructiveness and combativeness are preponderant over benevolence, which is small. The intellectual organs that are just over the eyes and in the middle of the forehead seem to be in a normal condition.

"Veneration" and "destructiveness" are the two main organs of the head of the alleged assassin. His head is conical and the form of it indicates a mind pathologically unbalanced.

"Such is Carmichael. "I have also had a portrait of his alleged hypnotist, Thomas Gideon Browning, brought under my notice. Of course I have never seen the man, but even by contemplating his portrait it is easy to observe that his head is no nearer the normal than his alleged assassin. Between the two heads there is, however, a series of marked contrasts.

In the case of Browning, one side of his skull bulges, and the other is depressed. One ear protrudes more prominently than the other. The face is what is technically known as "windling," and I have little doubt that the man had short legs and bumpy knees.

From the shape of his head, the unskilled man might mistake him for a Webster, but it is of the "rickety" type—widened at the middle of the parietal bones and flat on top with the squariness most marked at the top. Every symptom indicates that Browning had "rickets" in childhood and in such cases there is an abnormal quantity of nervous fluid in the head between the convolutions of the brain, pressing also on the spinal cord, and weakening the lower extremities so much that the child does not learn to walk until two years of age perhaps. The teeth are generally irregular and of poor quality. The disease is caused by an excess of lactic acid in the system. It is curable, but the deformity remains. The minds of its victims are not very brilliant as a rule.

"In the case of Browning, misanthropic and constructiveness appear to be the largest organs. He was probably a capable mechanic."

MEDICINE HAT MADE OFFICIAL WARNING

Zero Weather Is Said to Be a Possibility of the Next Twenty-Four Hours.

Despite the fact that the government weather bulletin sent out this morning gives snow flurries tonight and Saturday from the Middle West district, where all the cold is said to come from, is that the thermometer will nearly touch the zero mark within twenty-four hours unless something sidetracks the storm and cold wave that is due. Yesterday the snow center appeared to be in Nebraska and Iowa and rain in the south. Now the weather man again predicts snow for Janesville and its vicinity.

AN OUTING CLUB IS TO BE FORMED SOON

Will Have Membership of Fifty. Rent Grounds up the River and Have Monthly Outings.

An outing club with a membership of fifty is being contemplated by some of the younger businessmen of the city. The club when formed plan to rent suitable grounds up the river, where a pavilion can be erected, for picnics and for holding of large parties and a baseball diamond laid out. The gentlemen having the affair in charge already have some forty-five names of future members and a meeting to perfect a permanent organization will be held within a day or two. Several slightly places along the river bank are under consideration and plans and estimates have been made for a pavilion where meals can be served have been drawn up.

CONFERENCE IS TO BE HELD ON MONDAY

Teachers in the City Schools Will Discuss Plan to Establish a Pension.

Teachers in all the public schools of this city will meet on Monday evening at the High School to consider teachers of this state, as proposed by the movement on foot to pension the members of the profession at Madison and drafted into a bill that will be up before the legislature in a short time.

Whether the movement is to result in the establishment of a state bounty for whether a permanent pension society is to be founded by Wisconsin pedagogues is not at this date made clear. That the pension is not proposed as a charitable measure is certain. High School Inspector H. L. Terry says in this regard:

"The measure is advisable for the reason that it would insure fewer changes in the personnel of the schools of this state. We have an excess of novices who teach a class for a few months and then turn to some other field in life. It discourages me to observe how the armies of young people drop out of our vocation without learning to love it."

State Superintendent of Schools is collecting figures today at Madison relative to the number of teachers in that city who have taught for a period of twenty-five years.

DELOIT AND JANEVILLE FIVES ARE TO MEET THIS EVENING

Teams from the Two Schools Will Compete for Honors at High School Gym.

The local high school plays Deloit High-School basketball five tonight at the home gymnasium and the line-up of the adversaries is as follows: Wilbur Handhouse, Charles H. Sweeney, Jesse Franklin, Llewellyn, George Carey, Edward Rau, Forest Van Camp. The local players are: Wilbur Handhouse, Russell Wilkinson, Elbridge Elford, Frank Robertson, Francis Green, Reno Koch, Donald Korst, Sammet Murphy, Earl Tippet.

CLINTON

Clinton, Jan. 15.—E. C. Ryall, manager for Mrs. D. C. Griswold, will with his wife leave for California soon to spend the balance of the winter. Mrs. Griswold has secured the services of a registered pharmacist during Mr. Ryall's absence.

Tuesday evening the Myrtle Workers installed their newly-elected officers. Washington Cornelius Van Volzer and wife of Delavan are here, the guests of Aunt Merritt Van Volzer and family, corner Durand and Church streets.

Mr. Earl Horton and wife are expected here Saturday, for a visit with relatives and friends before returning to their home at Macoun, Sask. Canada.

The district school building on Clinton corner, one mile west of here on Milwaukee road caught fire this morning at 9 o'clock and burned to the ground a total loss. The building was a good one in fine state of repair.

It is rumored that a Carnegie library will be opened on Highland avenue. The preliminary steps were taken New Year's day. W. H. Northrop and Mrs. E. W. Horton are prime movers in the undertaking.

Dr. J. M. Townsend arrived Thursday afternoon from Kilbuck City.

The annual firemen's dance takes place at Angus opera-house. Knott & Hatch's orchestra will furnish the music and the dance will be preceded by a concert for one hour.

VON STERNBERG ART COLLECTION SALE

Half-Million Dollar Collection of Former German Ambassador to Be Sold at Auction.

(Special to the Gazette.)

New York, Jan. 15.—The half-million dollar art collection belonging to the late Baron Speck von Sternberg, German ambassador to the United States, is now on exhibition in the American art galleries in this city preliminary to its sale at public auction. The collection embraces more than one thousand lots and is pronounced by expert authorities to be the largest and choicest collection of porcelain, Chinese ceramics, Japanese lacquer, bronzes, ivory carvings, antique tapestries, Tibetan headdresses, oriental tapestries, mandarin robes, old velvet and brocades and similar art treasures that has ever been dispersed by public sale in this country.

The Chinese ceramics and lacquer form a notable part of the collection. One exquisite tapestry in the collection was made for the Imperial palace in Peking in 1750. It is of Chinese manufacture, but with the Gobelins touch. Another notable object in the collection is a Chinese screen of twelve panels, which is said to be even finer than the two screens of similar design in the possession of the South Kensington museum.

The collection enables a study of Chinese ceramics from the Yuan and early Ming periods to the reign of Chienlung, in the last being examples of the family vases, famille rose and the black lacquer decorations, and nearly one hundred plates of the dense porcelain manufacture of the Ming period, with the highly valued celadon glaze. In the blue and white porcelain the collection ranges from cabinet pieces of soft paste to grand jars and tall vases, one of the latter standing nearly five feet high.

For Tact and Judgment.

It does not kill the initiative or independent spirit to resolve to hold your tongue, nor is it hypocritical to be suave and polite. The hardest person to get along with is the one who runs by fast principle and speaks his mind. Half the time his principle is a matter of opinion.

WOMAN FOUND IN HELPLESS CONDITION WAS SENT HOME

Mabel Lane of Rockford Discovered in Baker's Drugstore and Put in Lock-up Over-night.

Last evening Mabel Lane of Rockford was found in a helpless condition in Baker's drugstore by Chief Appleby and taken up to the lock-up where she remained all night. There was no charge brought against her and this afternoon she was released and sent home. The woman has been here before and in jail, she having served three terms amounting to sixty days in the county jail while Sheriff Fisher was in office.

CLOAKS AND SUITS

People are taking a lively interest in our ready-to-wear garments, as no woman can visit this department, look at the garments and ask prices without getting interested if she has any notion of buying.

We offer the very best Garments for the price that were ever put on sale in Janesville. The styles are up to the minute, the material is A1 and there is a newness and freshness about our cloaks and suits that make people take notice.

OF CLOAKS

Our assortment is large enough and sizes complete enough so that we are in a position to fill any want. The large line of women's, misses' and children's cloaks which we are offering AT 50c ON THE DOLLAR, AT PRICES CUT EXACTLY IN HALF are receiving their full share of attention.

About 150 of our very best cloaks for women, misses and children, including our beautiful line of black garments and all the seasonable colored garments, are rare bargains at 33 1/3 or one-third off the price.

People see so many discount sales advertised in the papers that they are apt to pass by a good thing and not fully realize what the discounts mean. It is much more apparent to a woman when she can go right into a stock like ours and learn the greatly reduced prices at which she can buy a nice garment.

OF SUITS

Our assortment is growing less, but we are still showing so many good things and offering them without reserve at one-third the price. The sizes are more or less broken, but the styles are good and small and medium sized people are sure to find something they want.

The Following Great Cuts In Blankets

are making business for us. We are selling a wonderful lot of them and have plenty left to go a long way around.

OF FURS

These cool, snappy days and the sudden cold changes bring out the furs. They make a woman think of furs. Any woman not already provided with a scarf or set naturally longs for them. While thinking of furs why not make a B-Line for The Big Store and see our stock of strictly reliable coats, scarfs and muffs, the kind that give satisfaction. Any woman who buys furs of us is protected as we adjust all reasonable claims on account of furs not wearing as they should. We can do this because we are protected by the reliable manufacturers from whom we buy. All furs we carry are of first quality. No seconds or inferior furs carried in stock. All marked in plain figures. Just deduct 25 per cent, one-fourth, from any price. The saving is so great that one can hardly put off buying until another season, as the winter is practically only commenced—three months yet to wear them.

THE NEXT TIME DOWN TOWN MAKE IT A POINT TO VISIT THE READY-TO-WEAR SECTION, north store.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 14th day of January, 1909.
GRACE P. MILLER,
(Seal) Notary Public.
My commission expires July 14, 1909.

THE RAILROADS AND THE GOVERNMENT
The recommendations of the Interstate Commerce commission for authority to make a physical valuation of the railroads of the United States, and for federal control and regulation of railway capitalization, are propositions that are constantly sticking out like sore thumbs.
One would think the commission had quite enough to do now without reaching-out-for-more-power-to do other vast and complex things involving dangerous potentialities—all the time disturbing railway capital, says the Wall Street Journal.
To read closely the report of the commission, one would think that that body was in the slough of despond. "Previous to July 1, 1908," it says, "only a single suit had been filed to set aside an order of the commission." And then, "since that date sixteen suits have been begun for that purpose." The commission bewails the fact that "the constitutionality of the act itself is in issue," and again, "if the contention of the carriers... is sustained, but little progress has been made under the Hepburn amendment."
But no matter howsoever much the Interstate Commerce commission may bewail the fact that the supreme court still lives, and no matter how much it may seek to have congress delegate to any tribunal, authority which the constitution says congress cannot delegate; nevertheless all fair-minded citizens will stand side by side with the constitution and the supreme court.
The valuation of railway property does not consist solely in its physical property. It consists in large degree in its worth as a going concern. The value of the Erie railroad today—physical value and value as a going concern—may be $500,000,000, but deny it permission to obtain new funds, and thereby kill it as a going concern, and tomorrow it may be worth but $100,000,000.
Spikes, ties, rails and cars may all be valued, but the spirit which moves them all, and makes of them a great commercial enterprise, is beyond even approximate valuation.
From another viewpoint there can be no practical valuation of railway properties for the simple reason that such valuations are constantly changing. The very fact that there are constant fluctuations in the quantities involved, is sufficient to characterize a physical valuation of railways for practical purposes as purely chimerical.
Even assuming that it could be done, of what use could it be? Could it be made the basis of federal taxation? No, because the states have taxing power. Could it be made the basis of rate-making? No, because the rate-making power cannot rest on a basis subject to such violent changes. And, even assuming the impossible, viz., that a fixed valuation could be arrived at and certain rates established, then there would enter a most important matter—operating efficiency. Even could the desired end be obtained, it would, by putting a discount on operating efficiency, put a premium on inefficiency.
No attempt is here made to disparage the work of the Interstate Commerce commission, or its influence for good upon the country. Despite its great ambitions, and its hunger for power and more power, the security holders of the railroads of the United States, and the railroads themselves, are far better off because of the Interstate Commerce commission. It has done the country a tremendous service in making for publicity in railroad accounting and in dispelling discriminations. But the commission has work enough before it to keep it busy. Its reiterated demands for more authority and the concentration within it and within the executive of more power, are not merely a very disturbing element to railway capital and the investors therein, but are simply overwhelming. They detract from the force of the commission and rather make it appear as a modern Atlas carrying upon its shoulders the earth itself.

LOCK OR SEA LEVEL?
Several members of congress who recently returned from a visit to the Panama canal state that, though they went there with the idea that a sea-level connection between the two oceans would be best, they were convinced by their investigations that the contemplated great dam and locks are preferable and that the work involves no great risk. It can be taken for granted that Col. Goethals and the government engineers associated with him are acting only after full consideration. They avoid hazardous chances. Their plans are rigidly in accordance with the science with which they are as familiar as any who are highly trained in it and who have long practiced it in important works.
The various investigations that led up to the adoption of the dam and locks were by no means hasty nor confined to a few experts. All the able commissioners appointed in 1889, after deliberating two years, rejected the sea-level canal and favored the lock plan. In the board of consulting engineers of 1905 eight were for sea level and five for locks, but the commission of 1906 was five for locks and one for sea level. The three commissions, taken together, were for a lock canal by nineteen to nine. Some of this minority had no doubt of the practicability and safety of locks, but held that the country was rich enough to build at the sea level. Col. Goethals has no doubt that the projected locks are rightly located. He expects as a matter of course that there will be some settling of the dam while under construction. The canal is going ahead rapidly, but carefully.

LADY AUCKLAND, WHOSE NEW BOOK IS ABOUT TO APPEAR WHICH CRITICISES US.

Lady Auckland's new book, to be entitled "Six Weeks in New York," is to be a decidedly critical book on New York and its ways. The famed authoress promises many innovations and startling suggestions, which, whether just or not, will prove interesting reading. She describes New Yorkers as impossible. Concluding she says:
"The richest—and I met crowds over there—are terribly vulgar. Now they import English butlers and English footmen to wait upon them, and, believe me, one would find the manners of the servants' hall more congenial than those in the drawing room."
"I have one good thing to say about New York," added Lady Auckland, "and that is in praise of the climate, and when I have praised the climate I can praise little else. Everything is inordinately mean, and the system of inflated tripping is paramount. You must remember when I talk of America I mean New York, just as a New Yorker does. Out in Philadelphia one meets a very different type of person, really well bred and delightful. It is the New Yorker at whom my book will be directed. The book is really a faithful collection of daily letters written during my stay in New York to dear friends here."
Except for her venture in trade, when she opened a furniture shop in Baker street, which was not a success, Lady Auckland is not very much known in London, and, in general society, her newspaper interviews have not attracted any particular attention.

TOM JOHNSON—REAL MAN.
Here is a man!
His fortune gone, he is brave—and happy. Forced to give up a mansion, he will move into a cottage.
Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland is the man. Having lost his wealth, he must give up his palace on Euclid avenue, his automobiles, and go into a smaller house.
Is he soured or crabbed or morose? Not Tom Johnson!
He might have saved his fortune if he had resigned as mayor, given up his fight for three cent street car fares for the people and taken up his private affairs. But listen:
"I decided I could not do that. I entered the fight with certain ideals. I wanted to fight privilege and special interest. I had already decided to give up working for dollars.
"Why did I choose this course?
"I'll tell you. I WANTED HAPPINESS. And I've been happy in it."
Mind you, Johnson is not posing for effect nor seeking the bubble reputation. Listen further:
"I haven't been laboring to be rewarded by the gratitude of the people. One cannot count on that. It's the PLEASURE IN DOING THE WORK!"
My friend, that goes deep!
Tom Johnson knows what mere moneygrasps do not know—that money cannot buy happiness.
Why?
Because money belongs to the MATERIAL WORLD, happiness to the SPIRITUAL WORLD. And that is just where so many money makers miss the meaning of life.
Once in awhile a rich man begins to see this. Carnegie says in his "Probations of Today," "Beyond a competence for old age, which will not need to be great, wealth LESSENS rather than increases HUMAN HAPPINESS."
Rockefeller in his magazine studies says the same thing in other words. And there is the adage:
"Millionaires who laugh are rare."
Tom Johnson cannot be happier in the big house on the avenue than in the little house on a side street because his happiness is the FRUIT OF HIS SPIRIT, which does not depend on externals.
"Happiness comes from a consciousness of duty done, and Tom Johnson has done his duty. Happiness comes from helpfulness, charity, kindly service—these make flesh—and Tom Johnson is the incarnation of these things.
"And so, whether fortunes go up or down, this courageous, loyal, hearty, hopeful spirit—the real Tom Johnson—holds up its chin and rejoices to be a man."
Imitators of Narcissus.
Women, as a rule, are so intensely, and so naturally coquettish that on a desert island they would look for water not as a beverage but for use as a mirror.—Zellung, Vienna.

Speaking about Flour, we want to introduce you to our new brand,
BIG DIAMOND
It's a strictly high grade Minnesota patent family flour. It comes highly recommended to us by one of the oldest and best mills in the north west. Uniformity will be one of its strongest points. The next time you want a sack of flour, try it. You will surely try it sometime, because we are going to make it as popular as some other brands of flour which we have sold for nearly twenty years. Having no traveling salesman, and by dealing directly with the mill, we are able to sell this flour for less money than some other highest grades of Minnesota Patent Flour.
We are selling
BIG DIAMOND FLOUR
—FOR—
$1.50 per sk.
—OR—
80c half sk.

CAN LIVE ON CANDY
Chocolate creams and peanuts would keep you alive, says Prof. Olsen
Professor John C. Olsen, Ph. D., United States Food and Drug Inspection Chemist in his lecture on Pure Foods and their Preparation, among other things said: It was shown that two-thirds of a lb. of chocolate creams and two-thirds of a lb. of peanuts contain sufficient nourishment to feed an adult 24 hours. A diet of this kind would not be expensive compared with the cost of other foods.
EAT PEANUT CHIPS—I have a candy containing both the essential—peanuts and chocolate. The peanuts are covered with a coating of molasses and the whole is covered with a delicious sweet chocolate, making this candy at once both tasty and nourishing. Try some at 20c per lb.

DENTAL CHAT

Have you in rumbling in the woods ever stopped upon a fallen tree and had it cave in with you because its heart was eaten out with decay? It was hollow.

Just so will it be with your teeth if you neglect them.

My patients are continually saying to me,

My teeth decay so rapidly.

Why, it was only last week that I first noticed any trouble with them.

The truth was

This decay had been going on for years until the tooth was hollow and a wreck inside its enamel shell.

Had a Dentist been consulted regularly twice each year the trouble would have been discovered and removed before damage was so great.

Good teeth lengthen life.

Loss of teeth shorten life.

What are you doing about yours?

OWNS PHONE CO. IN WALWORTH COUNTY

W. S. Jeffries Now Has Stock of Walworth County Telephone Company—Bought Recently.

W. S. Jeffries, president of the Merchants & Mechanics' Savings Bank of this city, now owns the Walworth County Telephone company. It seems the company failed to pay the interest on its bonded indebtedness, and foreclosure resulted. Mr. Jeffries being the plaintiff representing the bond holders, he bid the property in at the sale. The line is well constructed, serves many people, and has always been supposed to be yielding a fair return on the investment. The foreclosure proceedings were a great surprise to the people of Walworth county.

AMOS REHBERG & COMPANY

Three Stores, Clothing and Shoes On the Bridge

STATISTICAL SAM.

HOME-MADE QUILTS OF U. S. REPRESENT $675,000,000 LABOR

Girls of Today Eschew "Quilting Bee"—Old-Fashioned Patterns Are Still in Vogue.

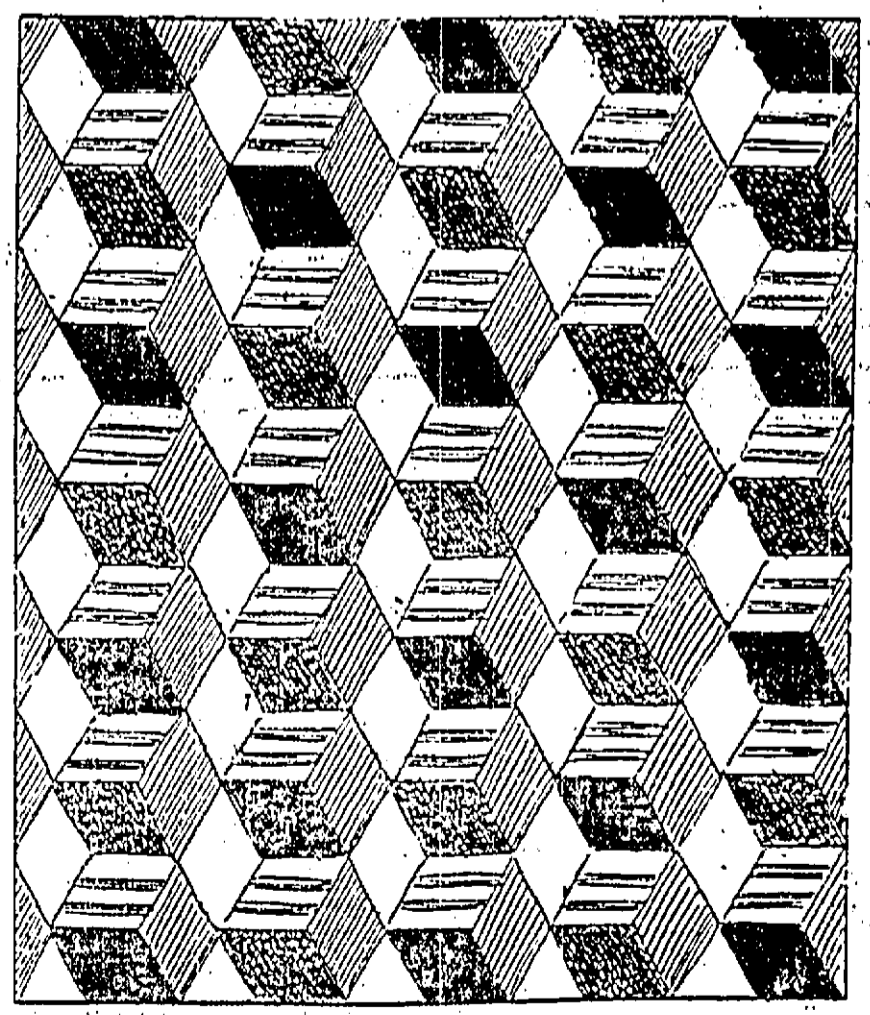

"When I was a lad in the country, Jack, I started out horses to trade. I married a girl, Jack. Bedding she brought; And a quilt that her grandmother made. What would I give for the old times back! With horses in plenty to trade; To sleep neath the quilt the girlie-girl brought; Neath the quilt that her grandmother made! Don't ask me!"

SAM'S PROBLEM.
800 working days one year.
1 1/2 hour's sewing each day.
15 cents per hour, overtime wages.

ANSWER.
Mother's labor on quilt, $22.50.

THE BIG STAR QUILT.

THE BOX QUILT.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER'S wealth couldn't buy all the home-made quilts of the United States. Statistical Sam, having craved the indulgence of the kitchen cabinet, continued: "There are at least two home-made quilts to each of the 15,000,000 families of this country; one that 'her mother' made, and one that 'his mother' made. Home-made quilts are made in spare time. Quilt-making women have little spare time; for, they are of the industrious sort, and are only able to sit down to piece and patch and sew at those rare intervals when all the rest of the household duties have been attended to. "It takes a year's spare time to make a home-made quilt. Leaving out Sundays and holidays, three hundred is the number of possible quilting days. Allowing one-half hour each day for quilt-making, one hundred and fifty hours are devoted to the completion of one quilt. "The average price of female labor in the Orient is 10 cents a day. The Mexican woman of the poor class receives 20 cents. A capable hired girl in the United States gets 50 cents a day; while a qualified seamstress demands and receives pay at the rate of $1.00 a day. Then, why shouldn't the domestic American mother's spare time spent in quilt-making be worth a little more? It is for the reason that spare time is precious time—overtime! And the same should be rated as time-and-a-half, according to the pay of the seamstress. "Say, then, she spends one-half hour a day sewing home-made quilts, and that it takes one year to make one quilt—the problem becomes interesting. "The 20,000,000 home-made quilts that 'his mother' and 'her mother' made, according to my figures, represent $675,000,000 worth of overtime. "It is a generally conceded fact, that a rich man's fortune dwindles one-third under the hamper. Subtracted to a compulsory turn-in: cash, John D. Rockefeller's billion dollars would assume the proportions of $666,666,666.66 2/3, which wouldn't be sufficient to pay for the labor expended on the home-made quilts of the United States, even at a rummage sale. Because, every man-jack of a true American would be there with the individual, over-bidding, redeeming price to save his home-made quilt. "One of the most popular of grandmother's patterns for her home-made quilt was, and is still, known as the 'big star.' Another old-time favorite which has stood the test of time is the 'box' quilt, so designed that any way you look at it you see cubes. Four hundred and eighty-six diamond shaped pieces are required to make the regulation star for the 'big star' quilt. The 'box' quilt, also fashioned of diamonds, may contain as many pieces as suits the fancy of its maker. "The 'crazy' quilt has no definite pattern. It is a hatterness sort of an effort; though, withal, it is often as highly prized as its high-toned cousin, 'log cabin.' "Afore love, life and labor is wrapped up in the home-made quilt than may at first be imagined. Years of saving of neckties, hat crowns, ribbons and bits of silk are required to provide the bare material for its pattern. And the mother, or wife, who makes it can in nine cases out of ten call each particular piece and tell you what it used to be and whence it came. "The girls of today are not so greatly given to quilting as were our mothers and their mothers. The demands of present day society and the allurements of contingent amusements forbid. When we were children, however, the 'quilting-bee' was one of the chiefest mild amusements to which the women folk flocked. "The intrinsic value of the home-made quilt may not be fully set down in dollars and cents. There is sentiment connected with it that money couldn't buy. Here's to the home-made quilt!"

THE GOLDEN EAGLE

Saturday, January 16th, and Continues Just Two Weeks

THE most sensational merchandising event Rock County has ever known will absorb the interest of all the city and country for miles around. It starts here Saturday, January 16th. A sweeping Clearing Sale—a general and decisive movement to clear out all surplus stock and broken assortments. Not one dollar's worth of goods can be carried over from season to season. No matter how much loss we have to make, the question of profit in this sale is totally waived—cost disregarded. The loss that will be entailed is a secondary consideration now; our great surplus stock must go and the clearance must be hurried and decisive. There will be no let up to the Genuine Bargains. Every article in the store will be marked with a tag in plain figures the exact selling price. Come in and pick out the big values yourself. Sale starts Saturday, January 16th.

TOBACCO SALES ARE PICKING UP

WAREHOUSES BEGIN THEIR WIN-TER'S WORK THIS WEEK.

WEED BUSINESS PROSPERS

General Gossip Among the Tobacco
Men Throughout the County—
Many Riders Out.

The local warehouses are beginning
to show signs of life just at this time.
Five of them are now in operation and many more will open within a few weeks. The American Cigar company has many buyers already in the field and P. S. Bates also has some of his riders out.

Bates' warehouse was the first to open in this city this season. The next to open was S. D. Hedges, who began his sorting on December 28.
Other warehouses now populated with squares of sorters are Seelman and Mouat, R. L. Erber, and T. E. Welch.
Whether prices this year will compare favorably with those of the past season is a question to be answered without reservation. Asked whether the prices of wheat, corn, or barley are at par, the informant could reply offhand, but in the instance of tobacco, it would be necessary to specify in regard to a great number of differing grades, for even in the single case of Wisconsin there are many varieties of tobacco, none of which is of uniform price with another. At present, what is known as "trash" is selling at one cent a pound and the better grades are selling at 20 cents,
more or less.

The largest portion of the leaf tobacco, suitable for blenders, will be ready for manufacturing within a year. Most of this was contracted for in the earlier part of the season—
about September or October. There is still existing a smaller proportion of the finer crops than of the rougher variety.

Most of the 1908 crop is of a very short growth but is a healthy tobacco and the pickers are of the belief that it will go through the "sweet" season.
What is known as the "sweet" is the fermentation, resolved in its raw stages, its leaves are ripened by this process.

Up to last week, the general market has been quiet. But during the past eight days the buying has been brisk
in the southern section of the state and prices have been ranging on the short tobacco at a scale of from five to six cents, while the leafier crops
have sold at from six to eight cents.
F. S. Bates has sixty men now at work and in three weeks more he will augment this force to the extent of seventy-five men. At that time he will open his Madison and Windsor branches, each of which require about the same number of hands as his main warehouse in Janesville. Mr.
Bates states that the crop of cheaper grades is not exceptionally promising
as far as some sources are concerned.
There is, however, a great improvement in this year's tobacco
over the old tobacco.

Necessity is said to be the mother of invention and that is probably the reason why the inventive genius of Samuel Grundy has evolved a machine for removing white mold or must from tobacco.

He has in operation at his warehouse here a labor saving device of this character that does the work of ten or fifteen hands in a most satisfactory manner.

Brushes fastened to a revolving shaft driven by a small electric motor,
having a movable table underneath
that can be raised or lowered as desired, is the simple apparatus that accomplishes this work.

If white mold is to continue such a common thing in Wisconsin tobacco
as it has the past few years, Mr.
Grundy's invention will come into much larger use.

The present method of removing the mold by hand brushing is slow and expensive to the picker and up to the present time has been employed quite extensively.

Mold is not considered such a serious detriment from the quality of tobacco but it impairs the selling value to such an extent that most pickers have resorted to brushing
such leaf before being offered on the market.

According to the Edgerton Reporter
the new crop is moving again more extensively than for many weeks past.
Buyers have been traveling continuously in all sections during the week
and growers are becoming more recommended to the prices offered, so that a good many hundred acres have been offered during the week.

The American Tobacco company is taking the larger share, but many local dealers are also in the field, and altogether it looks as if the movement
for the cheaper grades was under way that is likely to absorb the greater portion of the crop.

Prices, however, are several points
under those that prevailed for the choice lots earlier in the season. The following sales will show the trend:

John Walters, 18a at 7 1/2c.
Hans Sorn, 6a at 7 1/2c.
Geo. W. Coxhead, 3a at 5 1/2c & 2c.
Henry Krause, 3a at 7 1/2c.
Keeley & Marley, 18a at 6 1/2c & 2c.
Adolph Spenson, 8a at 7 1/2c.
O. D. Bruce, 8a at 7 1/2c.
Frank Cook, 4a at 7 1/2c.
Thos. Flarity, 6a at 7 1/2c.
Keeley & Hubbard, 8a at 6 1/2c & 2c.
Edward Simmons, 4a at 6 1/2c & 2c.
T. W. Hideo, 4a at 6 1/2c & 2c.
Bunker & Munsden, 8a at 7 1/2c.
A. M. Hilde, 7a at 6 1/2c & 2c.
Full, 7a at 6 1/2c & 2c.
Frank McDermott, 4a at 7 1/2c.
J. P. Swenson, 3a at 7 1/2c.

Concerning the market for old tobacco there is but little news to report. Transactions are largely confined to cheaper grades of all cured leaf and several hundred cases have moved during the week, some going to all export orders.

Receiving of the new crop is quite general at delivery points and warehouse handling is progressing quite satisfactorily.

The shipments out of storage reach 1455 cases and 5 cars of bundle grade for the week to all points from this market. Seventeen carloads have been received from outside points for handling here.

The Enterprise, of Evansville, says
John Brandt, the tobacco man of Elmhurst, N. Y., accompanied by his family, arrived here Tuesday night. It is probable that Mr. Brandt will at once open an aggressive tobacco campaign.

REMAINS WERE LAID TO REST YESTERDAY

Jesse Jones, Former Resident of Evansville, Who Died in California,
Was Buried Yesterday.

Evansville, Jan. 14.—The remains of Jesse D. Jones arrived here yesterday morning from California and the funeral was held this afternoon at two-thirty o'clock in the Free Baptist church. A large concourse of people were present to pay tribute to his memory. Rev. Ellen A. Copp, of Madison, conducted the services and made some very comforting remarks, taking as her text, "Whosoever shall a young man cleanse his way?" By taking heed, therefore according to the word. Mr. Jones was born in the town of Porter, February 22, 1874, and was the son of David M. and Sarah E.
Jones. With the exception of eight or nine years which he spent near Hoschek, his home has always been in or near this city. He was a student at the Evansville seminary and two years ago completed
his course at the Rockford business college. For a number of years he has been an employee of the Baker Mfg. Co., but resigned his position on account of his health and a year ago he went to California where he purchased land near Lompoc, intending to start a fruit farm. Mr. Jones was an active member of the Free Baptist church, and was known to all his friends as a quiet, kindly, honest and earnest
Christian young man, and his death
has occasioned much sorrow here.
Besides a father, his leaves two brothers, Ed. M. and Cyrus L. of this city, and two sisters, Gussie L. in Jones of Chicago, and Mrs. Mina E. Grayson of Sparta, Wis. The pallbearers were Messrs. Paul Ames, Will Schneider,
Harry Jan, Elmer Uphoff, Bert Shroyer
and Eugene Lee.

Jerome Andrews left for his home
in Argyle, Washington, yesterday.
His sister, Miss Marlin, accompanied him as far as Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hagley will en-tain at a six-thirty dinner this evening. Covers will be laid for sixteen.

Rev. Gilbert B. Farr will conduct revival meetings in the Free Baptist church next week. The first meeting will be held on Sunday morning and there will be services every evening
at seven-thirty o'clock throughout the week, also meetings Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons at two-thirty o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

The basketball team of the local
Y. M. C. A. will play in Deloit tomorrow evening and the receipts of the game will be sent to the earthquake sufferers. On Thursday evening,
January 21, the Waterloo Y. M.
C. A. team will come here and play
the Evansville team in the gymnasium.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dixon of Center
were Evansville visitors today.

Miss Rita Hubbard is spending a few days with relatives and friends in Deloit.

Miss Lella Comstock came from Oregon Tuesday to attend the Messiah concert and to visit at the home of Mrs. N. D. Wilder the remainder of the week.

The W. C. T. U. will hold their next meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. O. Meyers.

PEOPLE OF MILTON PLEASED WITH PYRE

His Reading of "The Servant in the House" Was Appreciated by Large Audience Present.

On the evening of January 12 in the village hall at Milton, to a large and appreciative audience, Mr. Milton
Pyre, of Milwaukee read Charles Dutton Kennedy's symbolic play "The Servant in the House." His rendering of this long five-act play was so masterly that he held the close attention of every person to the very end. His interpretation of the symbolic elements in the play was so clear that some who heard him read, after having seen the play elsewhere, declared that his rendering was fully equal to a staged representation. Mr. Pyre's impersonations are remarkable and the transitions from character to character so clear and marked that no one can fail to understand even

THREE OF A KIND.
Dropped Coffee, Picked Up Postum,
and Health.

The harmful action of Chaffee—the drug in coffee and tea—is the same in all cases, it is only a matter of degree.

One person may suffer more in the way of heart palpitation, sour stomach, nervousness, or insomnia, than another, but the poison is there all the time, if one continues to drink coffee or tea.

A Penn. lady and two friends
learned the truth about coffee in the same way. The lady writes:

"About four years ago I had an attack of nervous prostration and a great deal of trouble with my heart.
Sometimes I was dying, and my doctor seemed unable to find out the cause of my trouble.

"One day I was told of a case very similar to mine, and that the woman
could find no relief until she stopped using coffee. I did not like the idea of giving up coffee, for I was very fond of it.

"Having read frequently of Postum,
I determined to try it. It certainly made a great change in me. Those spells left me entirely.

"My most intimate friend was afflicted
as I was, in fact the similarity
of our afflictions drew us together in the first place. When she saw the great change Postum had made in me
she tried it and was benefited as I was.

"The beneficial effects of Postum on us two induced a neighbor to follow our example and so we are three of a kind who can't say enough in praise of Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in place, "There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

complex situations. Mr. Pyre surely "scored a success" in Milton. Already favorably known there by previous readings, he now may be sure of a large following if he comes again. Mr.
Pyre will be in Janesville at the Mil-lons theatre Jan. 21 for a similar rending.

A MUNICIPAL PLANT PAID NEAT PROFIT

Nearly a Thousand Dollars Over Expenses Was Cleared by the Monroe Waterworks Plant.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monroe, Wis., Jan. 15.—Supt. M. T.
Gottings of the municipal water works
shows that the local plant was operated at a profit of $925.62 last year in his annual report, to the board of water commissioners. Operating expenses for the year 1908 were $7,332.21
while receipts were $8,257.73. More money could have been made out of the plant had it not been necessary to operate the fire pump during the hot months of the summer before the new triplex pump was installed. It took three times as long to run
the fire pump it would have taken to operate the new pump. A new Corlies engine was also installed in November which will make the operation of the plant less expensive in the future.

Improvements costing $12,187.01 were installed last year, some of the items
being a 150 horse-power tubular boiler, 75 horse-power Corlies engine, triplex
pump, engine house, roof for plant,
new floors and other improvements.
Over 3,000 feet of 6-inch mains were laid last year, ninety-three services
were added and forty-eight new meters
were installed.

Mrs. Washington Helweg, formerly of Chicago township, died from the effects of injuries received in a street car accident in Chicago, according to a message sent to her father, James Helweg of Twin Grove. Mrs. Helweg, following the death of her husband at Chicago in 1900, went to Twin Grove to reside. She moved to Chicago a few months ago. She was forty-eight years of age.

Co. H. will hold an indoor field meet at the armory on Tuesday night, Jan.
19, following a basketball game between Waterloo and Co. H's five.

M. W. A. INSTALLATION WAS GRAND SUCCESS

Joint Installation of Woodmen and Royal Neighbors, in Footville—
Pleasant Time Afterward.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Footville, Jan. 14.—The public installation of the Modern Woodmen and Royal Neighbors in the Masonic hall Wednesday night was a grand success. Both lodges has prepared drills which were carried out in a very pleasing manner. Paruley's orchestra of four pieces furnished the music. After installation Rev. John Lutz gave a very interesting talk and then Auctioneer John Ryan took the floor and sold the boxes which contained the supper. A neat little sum was added to the treasury by this means.

Little Hubert Gove, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Gove, has been quite sick
but is better now.
W. J. Owen was called to Janesville, Thursday morning, by the illness of his son, Clarence, who is attending high school there. We all hope he will soon be restored to health.

Several of the girls are out of the warehouse on account of colds.
John Torphy, Jr., is again at work
in the depot after an attack of grippe.
The Christian church will hold services on Sunday as usual. They will meet in Masonic hall. Bible school at 10 a. m.; preaching service at 11 a. m. A short business meeting will be held Monday morning after the service. All the members are urged to be present. No service at night on account of the union meeting at the M. E. church and the anti-slavery conference. Mr. Inker, a representative of the league, will address this meeting. Everyone cordially invited.

Mrs. John Torphy was an Evansville shopper Wednesday.
Rev. McCall returned to his home in Richmond Center, Wednesday.
Don't forget the Ladies Aid dinner given at the home of Mrs. P. H. Torphy next Thursday. Come and begin to work for the new church.

John Langdon was a Janesville visitor Thursday.

David Anderson is visiting relatives here.

At a meeting of the official board of the Christian church held last Tuesday it was recommended that through the newspapers of the community the thanks of the church be extended to those who responded so quickly on last Sunday to the call of fire.

LADIES OF MACCABEES HELD INSTALLATION LAST NIGHT

Afterwards Had an Enjoyable Program and Delicious Refreshments Were Served.

Last evening at East Side Odd Fellows' Hall the Ladies of the Maccabees of Rock River lived No. 71 held an installation of officers. Mrs. M.
Burdick acting as installing officer.
After the installation Mrs. McNett, Past Lady Commander, was present
and a program was given and refreshments served. The following officers
were installed:

MRS. MACLOON AND MISS
GOODWIN GAVE CARD PARTY

Entertainment Was Second of a Series
to Be Given by These Ladies.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. W. H. H.
Macloon and Miss Goodwin again entertained at cards, the afternoon being spent at cards. The honors were carried off by Mrs. William Lane and Miss Marjorie Mann. Following the playing duty refreshments were served. The decorations of the house were very pretty and dainty and the affairs was a very enjoyable one to all the ladies present. This was the second of a series of parties given by the ladies.

TRINITY CHURCH LADIES HAD A MISSIONARY TEA

At Trinity Rectory—Rev. Willmann
Gave a Talk on Missionary Work.

Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the Trinity church gave a missionary tea at the rectory. Rev. Willmann gave a short talk, illustrated by exhibitions of curios which he had acquired, of idols and charts, on missionary work. Afterward tempting refreshments were served and an offering for church missionary work was taken.

Formerly Occupied by Miss Williams.

Last evening in the rooms in the Jackson Block, which have formerly been occupied by Miss Williams, the members of the Knights of Columbus held a smoker. The suite has been leased by the order for a term of three years. A formal dedication of the rooms will be held in about four weeks.

ALCOHOL IS PRESERVATIVE.
Alcohol is recognized the world over
as the proper, most efficient and wholesome preserver of medicinal compounds, and while some journalists try to alarm the world by the cry that patent "medicines" contain more alcohol than beer, they neglect to state that proprietary medicines are taken in doses from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful, while beer is a beverage that is consumed in quantities
from a glass to several quarts a day.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains only 18% alcohol, simply enough to preserve the roots and herbs from which it is made, and may be rolled upon by every woman in the land as a reliable, honest and sure remedy for the ills peculiar to her sex.

COUNTY FAIR TALK HEARD EVERYWHERE

Committee Working Up Stock Subscriptions Meets With Much Success in Its Labors.

"That Janesville will have a county fair this next fall now seems a certainty. The committee working on the stock subscriptions report that they are meeting with hearty support on all sides. Many residents of the county have also pledged their intention of becoming stockholders in the project and it is probable that the ten thousand dollars thought necessary to start operations with will be all subscribed within a few days. Acting President C. B. Putnam said yesterday: "On all sides you hear words of approval of the plan to hold a county fair here next fall. Some even want to make it a homecoming as well and if the stock continues to be subscribed as liberally in the next few days as in the past week the fair will be an assured feature."

CHILDHOOD'S COMPLAINT.
"It wouldn't be so bad, to have to go to bed," said the little Salween,
"if it didn't get late so early."

INTO THE PRIMITIVE

BY ROBERT AMES BENNET

Stop by step Blake drew back. His heel struck against something soft. He looked down and saw Miss Leslie lying on the sand, white and still. She had fainted, overcome by fear or by the undurable heat. The heat must have stupefied him as well. He stared at her, dazed, wondering if she was dead. His brain cleared. He sprang over to where the flask lay beside the remnants of the lunch.

He was dashing the last drops of the tepid water in her face when she moaned and her eyelids began to flutter. He hung down the flask and fell to choking her wrist.

"Tom!" she moaned.
"Yes, Miss Jenny, I'm here. It's all right," he answered.
"Have I had a sunstroke? Is that why it seems so—I can hardly breathe?"

"It's all right, I tell you. Only a little bonfire I touched off. Guess you must have fainted, but it's all right now."

"It was silly of me to faint. But when I saw that dreadful thing leap—" She faltered and lay shuddering. Fearful that she was about to swoon again, Blake slapped her hand between his palms with stinging force.

"You're fit!" he shouted. "The joke's on you! Kitty jumped just the other way, and he won't come back in a hurry with that fire to head him off. Jump up now and we'll do a jig on the strength of it."

She attempted a smile, and a trace of color showed in her cheeks. With an idea that action would further her recovery he drew her to a sitting position, stepped quickly behind, and, with his hands beneath her elbows, lifted her upright. But she was still too weak and giddy to stand alone. As he released his grip she away and would have fallen had he not caught her arm.

"Steady!" he admonished. "Dance up, you're all right."

"I'm—I'm just a little dizzy," she murmured, clinging to his shoulder. "It will pass in a minute. It's so silly, but I'm that way—Tom, I—I think you are the bravest man—"

"Yes, yes—but that's not the point. Leave go now, like a sensible girl. It's about time to hit the trail."

He drew himself free, and without a glance at her blushing face began to gather up their scattered outfit. His hat lay where he had weighted it down with the coconut. He tossed the hat into the skin bag and jammed the hat on his head, pulling the brim far down over his eyes. When he had fetched his club he walked back past the girl with his eyes averted.

"Come on," he muttered.

The scarlet in the girl's cheeks swept over her whole face in a burning wave, which ebbed slowly and left her colorless. Blake had started off without a backward glance. She gazed about with a bewildered look at the palms and the barren ridge and the fiery tidal wave of flame. Her gaze came back to Blake, and she followed him.

Within a short distance she found herself out of the sheltering lee of the ridge. The first wind gust almost overthrew her. She could never have walked against such a gale; but with the wind at her back she was buoyed up and borne along as though on wings. Her sole effort was to keep her foothold. Had it been their morning trip she could have cried out with joy and skipped along before the gusts like a schoolgirl. Now she walked as soberly as the wind would permit, and took care not to lessen the distance between herself and Blake.

Miles by miles they hastened back across the plain—on their right the blue sea of water, with its whitecaps and spray; on their left the yellow sea of fire, with its dun fog of smoke.

Once only had Blake looked back to see if the girl was following. After that he swung along, with down-beat head, his gaze upon the ground. Even when he passed in under the grove and around the pool to the foot of the cleft he began the ascent without waiting to assist her up the bank in the path. The girl came after, her lips firm, her eyes bright and expectant. She drew herself up the ledge as though she had been brood to mountain climbing.

Inside the barricade Blake was waiting to close the opening. She crept through and rose to catch him by the sleeve.

"Tom, look at me," she said. "Once I was most unjust to you in my thoughts. I wronged you. Now I must tell you that I think you are the bravest—the noblest man—"

"Got away!" he exclaimed, and he shook off her hand roughly. "Don't be a fool! You don't know what you're talking about."

"But I do, Tom. I believe that you are—"

"I'm a blackguard—do you hear?"

"No blackguard is brave. The way you faced that terrible beast—"

"You, blackguard—to've gone and shown to you that I—to've let you say a single word—Can't you see? Even if I'm not what you call a gentleman, I thought I knew how any man ought to treat a woman—but to go and let you know, before we'd got back among people!"

"But—but, Tom, why not, if we—"

"Not!" he retorted, harshly. "I'm going now to pile up wood on the cliff for a beacon fire. In the morning I'll start making that catamaran—"

"No, you shall not—You shall not go off and leave me, and—and risk your life! I can't bear to think of it! Stay with me, Tom—dear! Even if a ship never came—"

He turned resolutely, so as not to see her blushing face.

"Come now, Miss Leslie," he said in a dry, even tone; "don't make it so awfully hard. Let's be sensible, and shake hands on it like two real comrades—"

She struck frantically at his outstretched hand.

"Keep away—I hate you!" she cried. Before he could speak she was running up the cliff.

CHAPTER XXV.

In Double Salvation.

WHEN, an hour or more after dawn, the next morning, the girl slowly drew open her door and came out of the cave Blake was nowhere in sight. She sighed, vastly relieved, and hastened across to bathe her flushed face in the spring. Stopping every few moments to listen for his step down the cliff she gathered up a hamper of food and fled to the tree-ladder.

As she drew herself up on the cliff she noticed a thin column of smoke rising from the last smoldering brands of a beacon fire that had been built in the midst of the bird colony on the extreme outer edge of the headland. She did not, however, observe that, while the smoke column streamed up from the fire directly skyward beyond it there was a much larger volume of smoke, which seemed to have eddied down the cliff face and was now rolling up into view from out over the sea. She gave no heed to this, for the sight of the beacon had instantly alarmed her with the possibility that Blake was still on the headland, and would imagine that she was seeking him.

She paused, her cheeks aflame. But the only sign of Blake that she could see was the fire itself. She reflected that he might very well have left before dawn. As likely as not he had descended—at the north end of the cleft and had gone off to the river to start his catamaran. At the thought all the color ebbed from her cheeks and left her white and trembling. Again she stood hesitating. With a sigh she started on toward the signal staff.

She was close upon the border of the bird colony when Blake sat up and she found herself staring into his blinking eyes.

"Hello!" he mumbled, drowsily. He sprang up wide-awake, and flushing with the guilty consciousness of what he had done. "Look at the sun—way up! Didn't mean to oversleep, Miss Leslie. You see! I was up pretty late tending the beacon. But of course that's no excuse—"

"Don't!" she exclaimed. There were tears in her eyes; yet she smiled as she spoke. "I know what you mean by 'pretty late.' You've been up all night."

"No, I haven't. Not all night—"

"To be sure! I quite understand, Mr. Thomas Blake! Now sit down and eat this luncheon."

"Can't. Haven't time. I've got to get to the river and set to work. I'll get some jerked beef and eat it on the way. You see—"

"Tom!" she protested.

"It's for you," he rejoined, and his lips closed together resolutely.

He was stopping past her, when over the seaward edge of the cliff there came a sound like the yell of a raging sea monster.

To be continued.

"BABY AND I WERE CURED BY FATHER JOHN'S"

"Baby Had a Cold and I Had Lung Trouble."

Now We Are Both Strong and Well."

In a recent letter from Niagara Falls, George Colquhoun says: "I was taken sick about four months ago with lung trouble and was not able to do any work at all. Finally, I decided to give Father John's Medicine a trial and it has helped me wonderfully. I recommend Father John's Medicine to everyone who has a cold. I am sending you a picture of myself and son. He had a bad cold, and I give great praise to your medicine, for it stopped his cough and cured him. I would not be without your medicine in the house for I think it is wonderful." (Signed) Geo. Colquhoun, 746 10th St., Niagara Falls, N. Y.

J. D. F. RINEHART, THE FORMER CASHIER OF THE FARMERS' AND DRIVERS' NATIONAL BANK OF WAYNESBURG, PA., WHO IS NOW ON TRIAL CHARGED WITH WRECKING THE INSTITUTION.

The trial of Danker Rinehart, which has long been awaited by the hundreds of depositors who lost money through his alleged misrepresentations, is now under way and nearly two hundred witnesses have been subpoenaed in the case.

"The Farmers' and Drivers' National bank failed two years ago for about $1,500,000. Mr. Rinehart was cashier and later vice president of the institution. In the trial which is now under way Rinehart is the most optimistic and cheerful person in court. He always smiles at everything in a confident way which is very hard to analyze. He feels perfectly confident he will be vindicated of the indictments brought against him and says smilingly:

"I will never go to prison."

"False notes and false entries constitute the bulk of the charges against Rinehart. There was some kind of paper in the bank. It is asserted, of account for practically all of the money that went out of it. This trail of paper is an exceedingly complicated one."

Rinehart is represented by Attorneys Franklin P. Jans of Pittsburg, J. W. Ray and Frank Silvers of Waynesburg and W. S. Anderson of Youngstown. United States Attorney John W. Dunklin is directing the prosecution. He is assisted by First Assistant Robert M. Gibson of the Pittsburg office and J. A. Fowler, assistant United States Attorney general of Washington. Also by Special Examiner Charles Starck, Harry L. George, and John L. Proctor, accountants.
